1. Major Changes to the Long-Term Care Insurance System

[Since April 2021]

● Revisions to long-term care insurance premiums

The long-term care insurance premiums for 2021 to 2023 have been changed.

The financial resources for the long-term care insurance system consist of about 23% from the insured in Category 1 (aged 65 or over) and about 27% from the insured in Category 2 (aged 40 to under 65).

● Revisions to remuneration for long-term care

Remuneration for long-term care insurance services has been revised.

● Partial revisions to the base income for determining premiums for the insured in Category 1

There are 9 categories for long-term care insurance premiums based on the income levels of the insured. The income thresholds between levels 6, 7, 8, and 9 (comprising individuals subject to municipal tax) for 2021–2023 premiums have been revised to 1.2 million yen, 2.1 million yen and 3.2 million yen, respectively (see page 14).

【From August 2021】

● Changes to the maximum copayment for high-cost long-term care (preventive care) service expenses

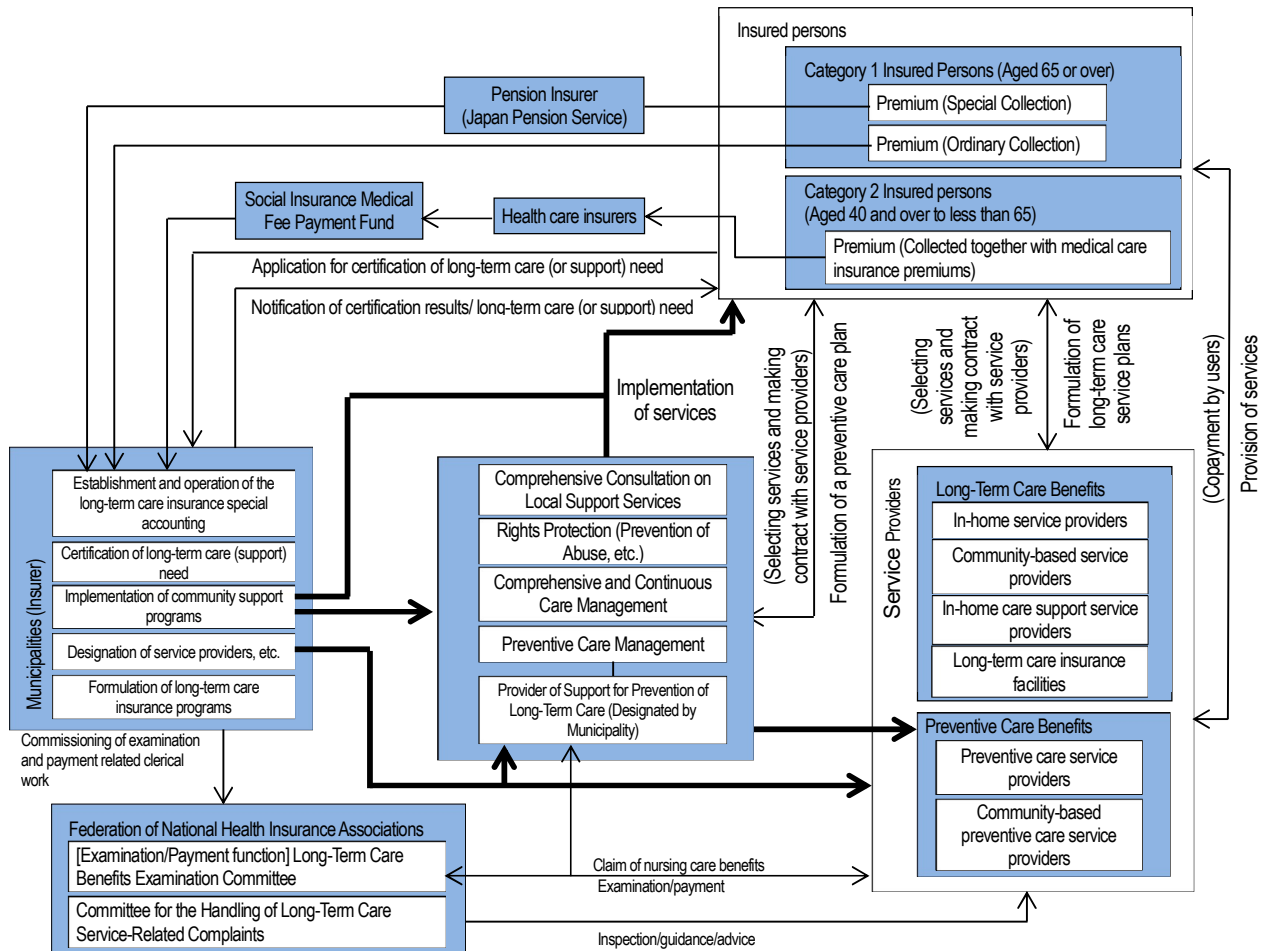

Upper copayment limits for households with a person earning the same level of income as active workers will change from 44,400 yen to 93,000 yen for those with an annual income of 7.7 million yen or more, and 140,100 yen for an annual income of 11.6 million yen or more (see page 16).

● Changes to the maximum user payments for food expenses in the care (preventive care) service fee for residents of specified facilities

The levels of payments by users will be subdivided. The amount of maximum user-payments for food expenses, and the criteria such as the savings and deposit amounts (a requirement for receiving aid for food and living expenses) will also be partially revised (see pages 18 and 19).

2. Structure of Long-Term Care Insurance System

(1) Overview of the Long-term Care Insurance System

(2) Structure of financial resources for the long-term care insurance system

The financial resources needed to operate the long-term care insurance system are funded from public expenditures for half and from the premiums of long-term care insurance subscribers (the insured) for the other half, except for the amount paid by service users. The insurance premium burden of the category 1 and 2 insured persons is divided by the number of them proportionately. The structure of the financial resources is as follows:

<Structure of financial resources for community support programs (comprehensive and voluntary)>

*The national government contribution includes 5% of adjusting subsidies.

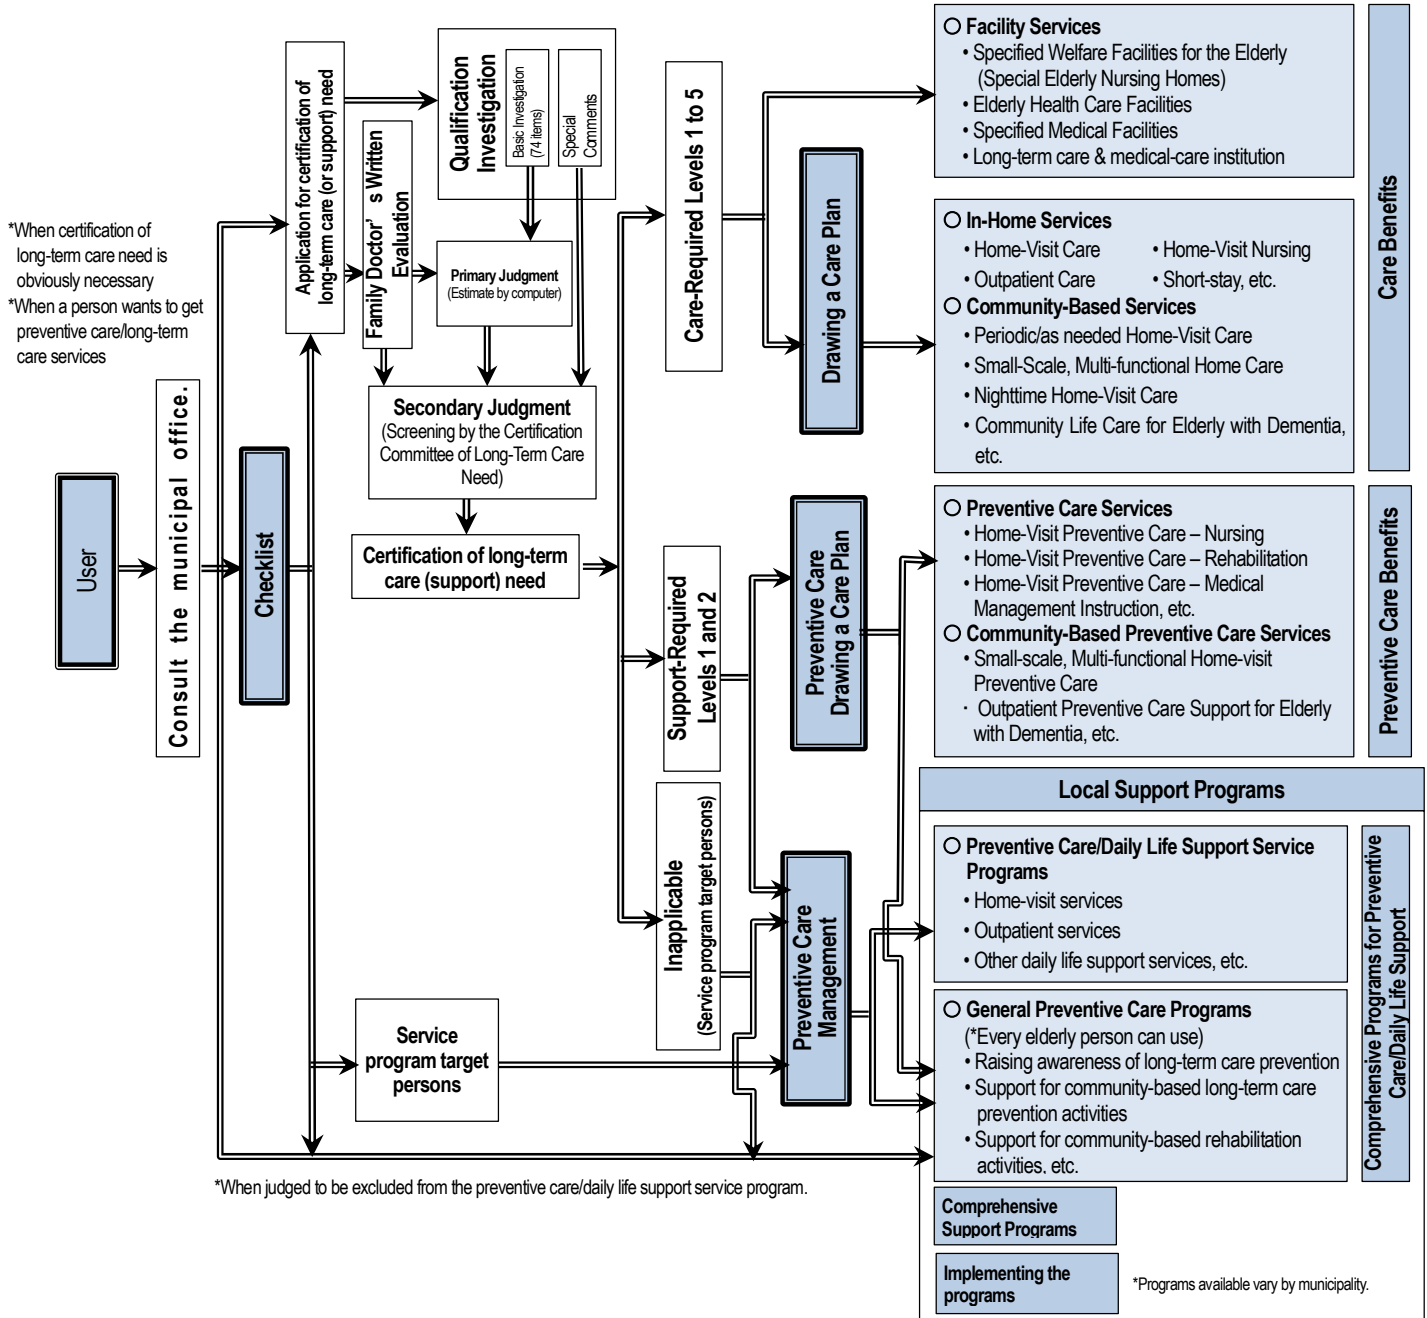

Allowance to Institutions
National government: 20%
Prefectures: 17.5%

*The insurance premiums of the category 2 insured persons are not allotted, but the amount is funded from public expenditures.

As for the preventive care/daily life support comprehensive program, the burden rate of public expenditures and long-term care insurance premiums is the same as the left graph.

(3) Procedure to use Long-term Care Services

1. When you want to use long-term care services, please apply to your municipality for a certification of long-term care (support) need. After certified, you can use services according to the care plan prepared by a long-term care support professional (care manager).

2. For more information about using the local support programs, please contact your local municipality.

○ An examination of your health condition through the Basic Checklist will be done at your municipal office.

 Implementation of examination varies by municipality.

Based on the results of the checklist, each person will be classified into the appropriate service category (general preventive care service, preventive care/daily life support service, or long-term care (support) service).

○ When submitting an application for certification of care/support need to your municipal office

Application procedures can be made by yourself, your family, your adult guardian etc.; or on behalf of you, by the community comprehensive centers; designated home-visit care support providers (care plan preparers); long-term care facilities; community-based welfare facilities for the elderly, etc.

[Persons aged 65 or over]

You can use services regardless of the reason for long-term care need.

[Persons aged 40 to less than 65]

You can use services when you need long-term care due to the following 16 specified diseases that are associated with aging.

Specified diseases

- Cancer (limited to terminal cases at physician's discretion based on generally accepted medical knowledge)
- Rheumatoid arthritis ○ Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis ○ Ossification of posterior longitudinal ligament ○ Osteoporosis associated with fracture
- Presenile dementia ○ Progressive supranuclear palsy, corticobasal degeneration, and Parkinson's disease ○ Spinocerebellar degeneration
- Spinal canal stenosis ○ Progeria ○ Multiple system atrophy ○ Diabetic neuropathy, diabetic nephropathy and diabetic retinopathy
- Cerebrovascular disease ○ Arteriosclerosis obliterans ○ Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease ○ Osteoarthritis of both knees or the hip

○ Recognition by the municipality as being in need of care/support

Based on the examination results and family doctor's written evaluation, the municipality's Certification Committee for Long-Term Care Need will review and make judgment.

Applicants are usually notified of their results within 30 days after submission. In principle, a new certification is valid for six months (renewed one is 12 months). But the period may be extended/reduced depending on the physical and mental state.

Qualification Investigation

A qualification investigator visits the applicant. For those who have difficulties with communication due to physical disability or other reasons, some municipalities offer interpreters or other assistance. For details on such assistance, please ask the municipality in advance.

Family Doctor's Written Evaluation

For those who do not have a family doctor, the municipality will introduce a doctor.

○ Drawing a Care Plan

• When you use in-home care service, please ask in-home care support businesses (care plan providers) which employs a care support professional (care manager). When you use a preventive care service and preventive care/daily life support comprehensive program, please ask the community comprehensive support center. You can prepare a care plan even by yourself for in-home and preventive care services and submit your municipality.

• For facility service use, please directly apply for the facility. Care managers can provide information on facilities.

○ Use of Services

Thoroughly consult with your service provider about specific service details, as well as service days, time slots and fees before entering into a contract. If you want to have service contents improved, please consult care managers, community comprehensive support centers, or service providers.

○ Payment of Usage Fees

The service usage fee is between 10% and 30% of the cost*. However, residence (living) and meal fees may be requested at actual costs. The fee for each service has been decided according to the care-required level and nursing care remuneration. Please receive an explanation until you fully understand the detail before making a contract.

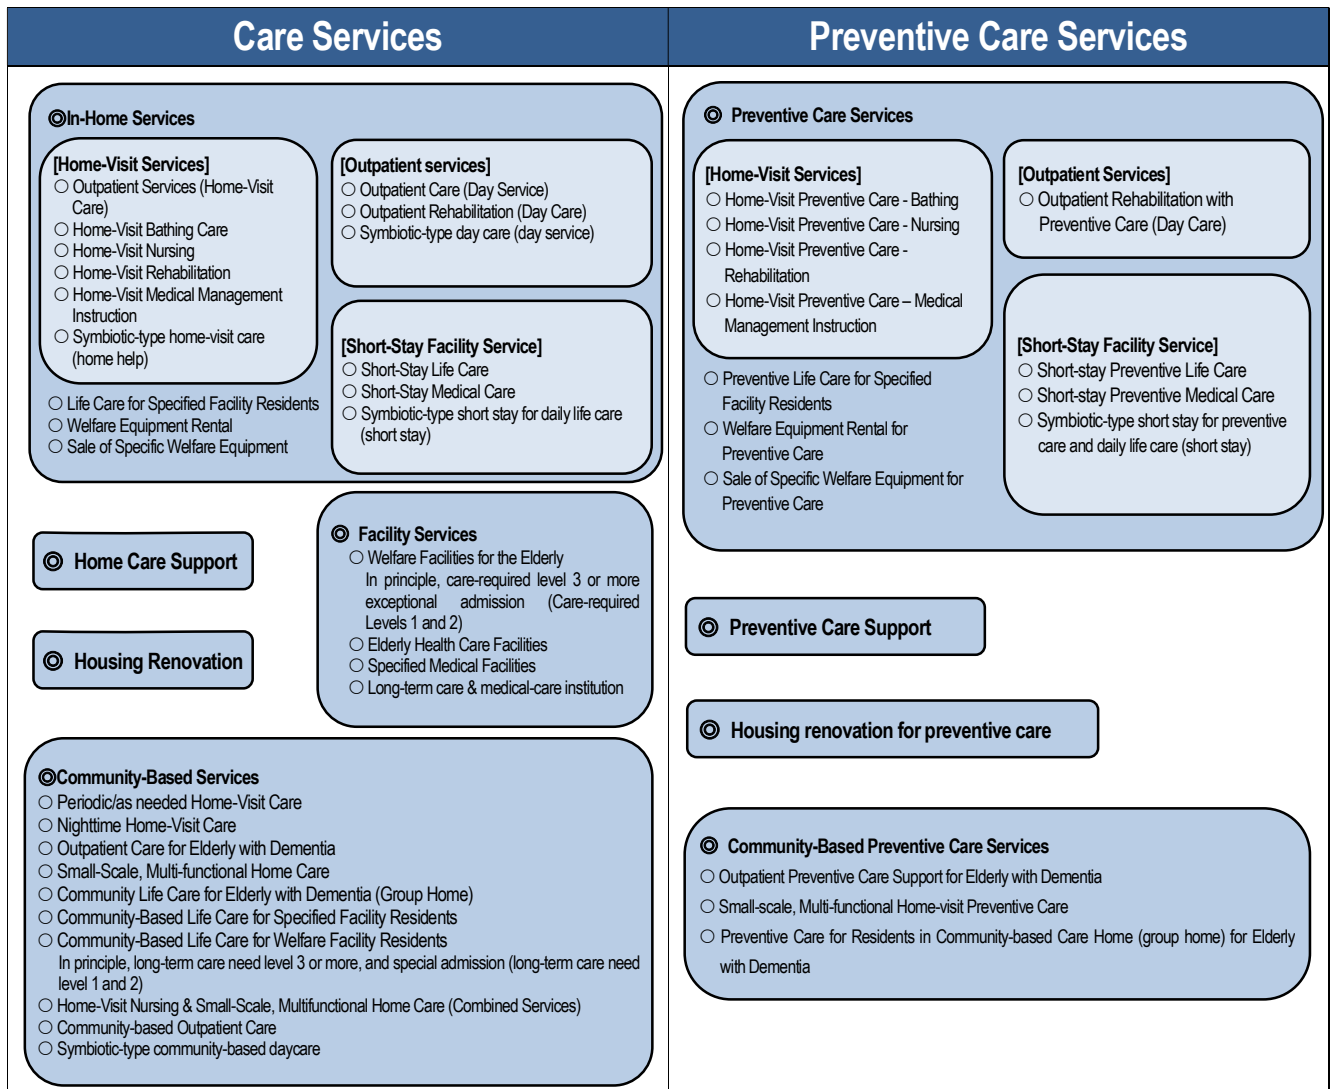

*For details, refer to "7. Payment by Users."

3. Services Available in the Long-term Care Insurance System

A person certified for long-term care-required levels 1 to 5 can use long-term care benefits.

A person certified for support-required levels 1 and 2 can use preventive care benefits.

<Types of care services>

Symbiotic-type service: Long-term care insurance service and welfare service for persons with disabilities are integrally offered at the same facility.

(1) Comprehensive Programs for Preventive Care/Daily Life Support

In addition to the current professional services including home-visit preventive care, etc., the Comprehensive Preventive Care/Daily Life Support Programs provide appropriate services according to the state of the elderly in need of long-term care, by promoting various services on citizens' initiative and general long-term preventive care programs, while making use of services provided by private companies according to the municipal policies in the care market.

a. Preventive Care/Daily Life Support Service Programs

Program	Contents
Home-visit services	Provide those certified as requiring support with support for various daily living activities such as cooking and washing.
Outpatient services	Provide those certified as requiring support with functional training and support for various daily living activities, including social arrangements.
Other daily life support services	Provide the elderly in need of support with livelihood support services equivalent to home-visit/daycare services, such as meal delivery for nutrition improvement and watching for those living alone.

(1) Preventive Care Services (2) Community-Based Preventive Care Services (3) Those who use the Comprehensive Programs for Preventive Care/Daily Life Support

b. General Preventive Care Programs

Program	Details
Identification of those requiring preventive care services	Identify individuals who need certain support (stay-at-home elderly etc.), from the collected information, leading to long-term care prevention activities
Raising awareness of preventive care services	Conduct awareness-raising and educational activities on preventive care
Support for community-based preventive care activities	Develop and support local resident-initiated preventive care activities.
Evaluation of General Preventive Care Programs	Assess the achievement status of the targets set out in the long-term care insurance service plan and evaluate General Preventive Care Programs.
Support for community-based rehabilitation activities	To strengthen preventive care activities, rehabilitation experts provide advice, etc. to outpatient/home-visit care service providers, community-based care meetings, and community-based service facilities.

(2) Comprehensive Support Programs

a. Operation of the Local Comprehensive Support Center

The Local Comprehensive Support Center is a coordinating body for constructing a “Local Comprehensive Care System” which is to provide housing, medical, care, preventive care and daily life support services as a whole in order for the elderly to live in their neighborhood. The Center employs public health nurses, social welfare workers and chief care managers.

○ Comprehensive Consultation Support Program

The Center provides consultation about issues related to health and welfare, medical services and life style, and matters concerning elderly persons from their families or neighbors.

The Center provides comprehensive support, such as advice on the long-term care insurance system and coordination of various systems and appropriate services by using local resources.

○ Rights Protection Program

The Center works with relevant organizations to provide support in handling of issues related to elderly abuse, the use of adult guardianship systems and the prevention of consumer damage.

○ Preventive Care Management (Reposted)

○ Comprehensive and Continuous Care Management Support Program

The chief care managers and other Center personnel work with diverse organizations to find ways to make each elderly persons’ surrounding environment easy to live in. By supporting local care managers, we provide the most effective services possible.

b. Promotion of coordination between in-home medical care and long-term care

The Center is promoting coordination between medical institutions and long-term care businesses to provide combined services of in-home medical care and nursing care, so that the elderly in need of both of them can comfortably continue to live in the community they are used to until the end of life.

c. Promotion of measures against dementia

Measures against dementia are being promoted by focusing on living together and prevention, and on the perspectives of people with dementia and their families to create a society in which those with dementia can continue to live their own lives as long as possible in a comfortable environment in their community.

○ Initial-phase Intensive Support Team

Medical and long-term care specialists from the team visit people who have or who are suspected of having dementia, and their families. After observation and evaluation, the team provides comprehensive, intensive initial support for about 6 months, including the introduction of and arrangements for necessary medical and long-term care services and assistance to the family members.

○ Dementia Community Support Promoters

Dementia Community Support Promoters liaise between local support organizations and establish a community support system that includes the “Care Pathway for Dementia,” the “Dementia Café,” and participation in social activities. They also provide consultation support for people with dementia, their families, and others.

○ Team Orange

Team Orange promotes the establishment of a “living together” community in which people with dementia can continue to live their own lives as long as possible in a comfortable environment by matching the needs of those with dementia and their families with services provided by dementia support systems.

<Medical Centers for Treatment of Dementia>

The Center has a network to coordinate long-term care services and medical information on dementia, providing patients and their families with professional medical advice; differential diagnosis; response to acute phase, complication, and behavioral and psychological symptoms; coordination with family doctors, etc.

d. Improvement of systems for daily life support services

Municipalities will take the initiative in improving/enhancing various support systems to help the elderly's daily life and social participation, by arranging livelihood support coordinators (community mutual support promoters) and by cooperating with other support groups, such as NPOs; private companies; co-ops; volunteers; social welfare corporations; social welfare councils; community-based groups; nursing care service facilities; silver human resources centers; seniors' clubs; commerce and industry associations; and case workers.

e. Promoting community care meetings

The Community Comprehensive Support Center will study individual cases in cooperation with various professionals, and promote communities' network building, support their care management, and grasp their issues.

(3) Voluntary Programs

These programs provide necessary support according to the community situations in order to maintain the stable operation of long-term care business and support caregivers who help the insured and those in need of long-term care, so that the elderly can continue to live in the way they want.

Examples: Long-term Care Benefit Expenditure Optimization Program, Family Care Support Program, and Community Independent Living Support Program, etc.

5. Disclosure of Information on Long-Term Care Services

Purpose of the information disclosure system and its regime

The information disclosure system intends to publicize service provider's service contents and operational situations. Service providers are obliged to report their service contents and operational situations every year under the ordinance, so that the users can compare such contents and choose proper services.

The clerical affairs and authority under this system were transferred in 2018 from prefectures to designated cities. So, Osaka City and Sakai City hold jurisdiction from April 1, 2018 over the clerical affairs on the information reported by service providers and facilities located in Osaka City and Sakai City, respectively.

○ Contents for Disclosure

Basic Information...Name, location, contact address, service contents, number of service staff, situations of facilities/equipment, usage fees, etc.

Operation Information...Methods of user-oriented service offer, education and training for employees, situations of safety and health management, etc.

○ Investigation

Prefectures and designated cities can conduct an investigation on the contents of reports when they consider necessary.

Long-term care service information disclosure system

Service providers' service information is made public on the government website "The long-term care service information disclosure system."

Also, information on the community comprehensive support centers and livelihood support services is made public on the individual municipal websites "the long-term care service information disclosure system," because it has been obliged to be disclosed since 2015.

6. Insurance Premiums

The expenses for long-term care/preventive care benefits and community support programs are covered by public expenditures for about 50% and for the remaining by the insurance premiums of the category 1 insured persons (aged 65 or over) and the category 2 insured persons (aged 40 to less than 65).

(1) Insurance Premiums for Category 1 Insured Persons (Aged 65 or over)

a. Premium Amounts

Each municipality calculates the standard amount of insurance premiums for those aged 65 or over based on 23% of the total costs of long-term care services (excluding users' payment amounts) in the municipality; it decides the amount for each income category by multiplying the standard amount by the percentage set for each category. This system is designed to set appropriate premium amounts according to the insured's income levels.

The standard amounts are reviewed every three years in accordance with the long-term care insurance plan, which is prepared by each municipality every three years. (The next review is scheduled for April 2024.)

One shall start paying the premium amount designated for category 1 insured individuals from the month they turn 65 of age (clarification: coverage begins during the month containing the day preceding the individual's 65th birthday).

<Typical Insurance Premium Settings>

* Some municipalities set the rates for levels 1 to 3 to less than those above, based on the reduction measures using public expenditures.

* The table above shows nine-levels, but some municipalities set 10 or more levels, and/or set different factors to be multiplied by the standard amount of the premiums for each level. For more details, please contact your municipality.

b. How to Pay Insurance Premiums

There are ordinary and special collection methods

○ Ordinary Collection

Among individuals who receive less than 180,000 yen in old-age pension and who receive 180,000 yen or more annually but are unable to pay the premiums for the special collection methods (deduction from pension), those who are qualified as Category 1 insured in the middle of a fiscal year or those who moved in from other municipalities should individually pay the premiums to their municipalities in accordance with the payment slip they are issued. The number of installments and due dates vary among municipalities.

○ Special Collection

For those who annually receive 180,000 yen or more in old-age pension, retirement pension, survivor's pension or disability pension, their pension insurers (Social Insurance Agency, mutual aid associations, etc.) make their regular payments to municipalities (6 times a year) after deducting the insurance premiums.

Provisional Collection (for April, June and August) and Official Collection (for October, December and February) under the Special Collection Method

Because the insurance premiums of the category 1 insured persons are set according to income categories, their current year premiums are not determined until after June when their previous year incomes are confirmed. Therefore, for those who continue to pay their premiums under the special collection method, an amount equal to that which was collected in February shall be collected in April, June and August (provisional collection). After the official premium amounts are determined, and adjustment of the provisionally collected amounts is conducted, the remaining insurance premiums are collected (official collection).

(2) Insurance Premiums for Category 2 Insured Persons (Aged 40 to less than 65)

The long-term care insurance premiums for those aged 40 to less than 65 are determined based on the calculation method specified in their national health insurance, other health insurance, mutual aid associations or etc., and are paid together with medical insurance premiums.

(3) Reduction/Exemption of Premiums

If you become unable to pay your insurance premiums due to natural disaster or considerable reduction in income, your payment may be exempted or reduced.

- If your residence, furniture, etc. is severely damaged by natural disasters such as earthquake, windstorm, flood or fire
- If the income of your household's main provider is drastically reduced due to his/her death, serious physical/mental disorder, long-term hospitalization, suspension/abolition of business, large business losses, unemployment, etc.

Some municipalities have their own exemption/reduction systems. For more details, please contact your municipality.

(4) Penalties in the event of non-payment

The long-term care insurance system intends to support the elderly in need of long-term care/support by the entire society. So, people who need no support must pay insurance premiums. Be sure to pay your insurance premium by the deadline.

If premiums are not paid in time, the following penalties are imposed according to the length of time without making your payments when you receive long-term care services, etc.

If you do not pay premiums for a year or longer ⇒ The payment method for your care services will be changed to a refund-based system

You must pay all service fees first; the amount covered by insurance (90% to 70%) will be reimbursed later upon application.

If you do not pay premiums for one and a half year or longer ⇒ Provision of your care service fees will be temporarily suspended

You will pay all the entire service fees yourself; partial or complete/whole payment of the amount to be covered by insurance will be temporarily suspended. If non-payment continues, the suspended amount may be allocated for premium payments.

If you do not pay premiums for 2 years or longer ⇒ The available amount of funds for your care services will be reduced

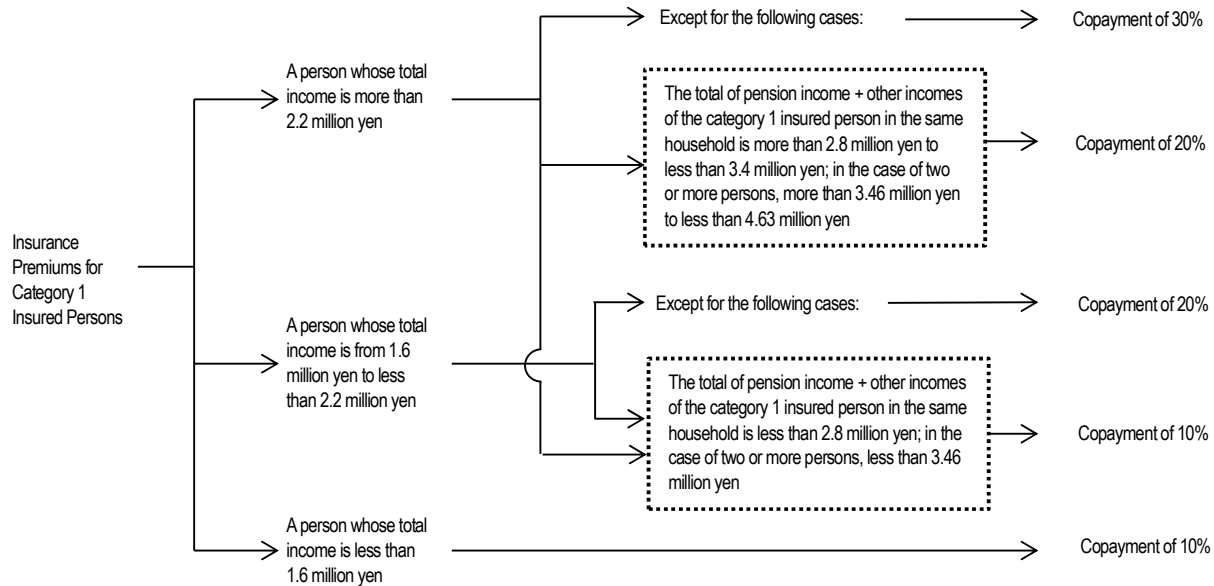

The extinctive prescription for the right of collection of premiums is two years. Your portion of the care expense payment will be raised to 30% or 40% and allowances for high-cost long-term (preventive) care service, high-cost combined medical and long-term (preventive) care service, and care service for specified facility residents, etc. will not be paid according to the length of the extinct period.

7. Payment by Users

(1) Payment by Users

10% to 30% of service costs is paid by users.

[Determination of copayment rates]

If a category 2 insured person (beneficiary) is not subject to municipal tax or a public assistance recipient, the copayment is 10% regardless of the income.

To the person certified for long-term care/support need, "a long-term care insurance copayment rate card" is issued, which shows the rate of payment by users (from 10% to 30%).

Since the expenses involved in the creation of a care plan (preventive care plan) is completely covered by the care insurance system, users do not have to pay any money.

- To ease the payment by users, maximum payment amounts are set according to the user's income category.

<High-Cost Long-Term Care (Preventive Care) Service Expenses>

When a user's copayment totals (per month) exceed his/her specified upper limit, financial assistance for high-cost long-term care (preventive care) expenses is provided according to the user's income category. To receive this assistance, submit an application for high-cost long-term care (preventive care) service expenses assistance form to your municipality.

Income Category		Upper Payment Limit
A person whose household has an income earner comparable to current workforce*	Annual income of 11.6 million yen or higher	140,100 yen (household)
	Annual income of 7.7 million yen to less than 11.6 million yen	93,000 yen (household)
	Annual income of 3.83 million yen to less than 7.7 million yen	44,400 yen (household)
A person whose household has someone who is subject to municipal tax		44,400 yen (household)
A person whose household has no one who is subject to municipal tax		24,600 yen (household)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ A person who is an old-age welfare pension recipient ▪ A person whose total amount of previous year income and public pension is 0.8 million yen or less 		24,600 yen (household)
		15,000 yen (individual)
A person who is a public assistance recipient		15,000 yen (individual)

* Until July 2021, the upper payment limit (monthly) for a person whose household has a person earning the same level of income as active workers is 44,400 yen (per household). The new category and amount will apply from August 2021.

(2) Payment by Users for In-Home Services

For in-home services, the monthly maximum allowance (the number of units) is set according to the long-term care need level. The user, who uses services within the maximum allowance, must pay the user fees (10% to 30%).

When receiving day services (outpatient care, outpatient rehabilitation, etc.), users are to pay for food, diapers, etc., in addition to 10% to 30% of the overall service fees. For short-stay services (short-stay daily-life care, short-stay medical care, etc.), users should pay for the costs of food, accommodation, and other necessary daily life costs.

If the services a user receives exceed the maximum available amount, the excess amount shall be paid by the user.

- Maximum amount available for major home-visit services and the amount paid by users who receive the maximum amount of services (rough estimation) [per 1 month]

Category	Maximum Available Amount	Payment by Users (10%)	Payment by Users (20%)	Payment by Users (30%)

*Maximum available amount is indicated by unit. Unit cost differs depending on the type of service and location of service providers.

The maximum available amounts in this table are calculated based on the scale of 1 unit = 10 yen.

*The maximum available amounts shown in this table apply to the following services (including preventive care services):

...Home-visit care, home-visit bathing care, home-visit nursing care, home-visit rehabilitation, outpatient care, outpatient rehabilitation, short-stay life care, short-stay medical care, welfare equipment rental, home-visit long-term/nursing care services based on regular rounds and on-demand provision, nighttime home-visit care, community-based outpatient day care, outpatient care for the elderly with dementia, small-scale/multi-functional home care, combined services, community life care for the elderly with dementia (short-stay only), life care for specified facility residents (short-stay only), community-based life care for specified facility residents (short-stay only)

(3) Payment by Users for Facility Services

a. Users who enter long-term care insurance facilities and receive facility services should pay the following;

- From 10% to 30% of the facility service fees. For the amount after applying the high-cost long-term care service allowance, refer to “7 (1) High-Cost Long-Term Care (Preventive Care) Service Expenses.”
- Residence (living) and food expenses. For the amount after applying the long-term care service allowance to a person admitted to a specified facility, refer to “7 (3) b. Care (Preventive Care) service assistance for specified facility residents.”
- Special service fees (special room charges, special meals)
- Daily life costs (i.e.: hairdressing costs and other costs specified as daily life expenditures)
- Facility service fees vary among facilities, depending on their location, staff arrangement, etc. Residence (living) and food expenses vary among facilities according to the contract with the facility.
- User fees are more costly for facilities that offer enhanced nutrition management and other special services, have generous staffing, and provide high quality care for individuals requiring complex home care services.

Example of usage fees: <Monthly (30 days) fees corresponding to 10% to 30% of facility service fees>.

b. User Expense Assistance Programs

○ Care (Preventive Care) service assistance for specified facility residents

In order for low income earners to use the above facility services (including Community-Based Life Care for Welfare Facility Residents, Short-Stay (Preventive) Life Care and Short-Stay (Preventive) Medical Care) without any worries, the maximum amounts for residence (living) and food expenses have been set according to income categories, and the difference between the standard amount and the maximum amount is supplied. (When the residence (living) and food expenses decided by facilities are lower than the standard amount, the difference between the expenses decided by facilities and the maximum amount is paid).

*It is necessary to apply for and approved by your municipality, and submit "the certificate of the maximum amount paid by a long-term care insured person" to your service provider.

- (1) Not only all members of a household but also the elderly person in need of long-term care/support and his/her spouse not living in the same household (with a de facto marital relationship) must be in the municipal tax-exempt status.
- (2) The total assets, including cash, savings, joint trust, publicly offered bond, management investment trust, securities, etc. possessed by both the elderly person in need of long-term care/support and his/her spouse, must be 20 million yen or less (if no spouse, 10 million yen or less) (*Starting August 2021, this amount must be 20 million yen (10 million yen) or less for Level 1; 16.5 million yen (6.5 million yen) or less for Level 2; 15.5 million yen (5.5 million yen) or less for Level 3 ①; 15 million yen (5 million yen) or less for Level 3 ②). (The assets include precious metals, such as pure gold reserve/purchase whose market value can be easily known, a bank account balance, etc.)

Partitioning Multi-bed Rooms into Unit-type Private Rooms is prohibited as of April 2021.

* A person whose all family members are not subject to municipal tax, and the total of whose taxable/non-taxable pension and other income is over 0.8 million and under 1.2 million yen per year.

 A person whose all family members are not subject to municipal tax, and the total of whose taxable/non-taxable pension and other income is over 1.2 million yen.

○ Special reduction measures for residence (living) and food expenses for those who are subject to municipal tax

Even an elderly couple household, where the elderly person or his/her family members are subject to municipal tax, and which falls under level 4 in “7 (3) b. Care (Preventive Care) service assistance for specified facility residents,” can get burden reduction to level 3, by applying to the municipality, if the household meets certain requirement.

(4) Assistance from Social Welfare Corporations, etc.

This assistance applies to individuals who are exempt from municipal resident tax, who meet the appropriate income and asset qualifications and are recognized by the municipality as having difficulty in leading a life.

User payment amount and accommodation/meal expenses will be reduced by 1/4 (recipients of the welfare pension plan for the elderly receive a 50% reduction, in principle).

*To receive this assistance, apply with your municipality; a certificate of confirmation will be issued. For the procedures, please ask your municipality.

(5) High-cost combined medical and long-term care (preventive long-term care) service expenses

○ Burden reduction system to ease the copayment of significantly expensive medical and long-term care fees

If your copayment for long-term care insurance services and/or medical insurance premiums (National Health Insurance, Employee’s Health Insurance, or Latter-Stage Elderly Healthcare System) is high, you can get the difference exceeding the limit amount (monthly) set in each system.

Also, if the total of user fees (10% to 30%) for long-term care insurance services and the household copayment for each medical insurance, which was paid in one year (from August 1 to July 31), is expensive, a certain amount is paid back. This is calculated by dividing the amount exceeding the maximum amount of each income category by each burden rate, and paid from the long-term care insurance as “the high cost unitary medical (preventive) care service allowance,” and from each insurance as “the high cost unitary nursing care allowance,” respectively.

*Your burden is the amount after deducting both the high-cost long-term care (preventive care) service allowance and the high-cost nursing care allowance. For the procedures, please ask your municipality.

○ Maximum copayment when you use both the long-term care insurance system and the latter-stage elderly healthcare system

Income Category		Maximum payment by users (Annual sum)
Taxable Household	Those earning the same level of income as active workers	Taxable income is 6.9 million yen or more	2.12 million yen
		Taxable income is 3.8 million yen or more	1.41 million yen
		Taxable income is 1.45 million yen or more	670,000 yen
General		560,000 yen
Tax-Exempt Household	Low Income II	310,000 yen
	Low Income I	190,000 yen

Some municipalities offer a reduction or exemption of out-of-pocket user fees in times of disaster. For more details, please ask your municipality

8. Programs for Protection of Elderly Rights

(1) Rights Protection Consultation Program

This program provides consultation services for people who lack capacity for judgment due to dementia, intellectual disability or mental disorder on various rights infringements they face in the society and concerns/troubles in their daily life. Also, it provides expert advice and information to relevant local organizations, such as Comprehensive Support Center, Main Consultation/Support Center for Persons with Disabilities and social welfare facilities.

(2) Daily Life Self-Support Promotion Program

This program provides support for people who lack capacity for judgment due to dementia, intellectual disability or mental disorder on use of welfare services, daily money management, and document custody.

For inquiries, please contact the Social Welfare Council in each municipality

Types of Services	Contents
Welfare User Assistance Service	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Provides information and advice on social welfare services ▪ Provides assistance with procedure for using welfare services, etc.

Document Custody Service	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Maintaining passbooks, seals, title deeds, etc. *Jewelry, precious metals, and antiques cannot be accepted.

(3) Adult Guardianship System

- This system provides legal support for people who lack the capacity for judgment due to dementia, intellectual disability or mental disorder, etc. A guardian is selected by the family court and works to protect the individual's rights.
- There is a "legal guardianship system," which is offered after an individual has impaired judgment, and an "arbitrary guardian system," which allows an individual to make a contract assigning arbitrary guardians and drawing up an authenticate what kind of help and by whom he/she wants in case his/her judgment ability becomes impaired.
- Application to use this system should be made by the users themselves, their spouses, relatives within the fourth degree of relationship, or the mayor of their municipality (when it is deemed necessary to safeguard the welfare of the user).

- For more details, please ask the municipality, Osaka Prefectural Social Welfare Council, Municipal Social Welfare Council, Community Comprehensive Support Center, Main Consultation/Support Center for Persons with Disabilities, or Family Court having jurisdiction over the area you live in.

(4) Elderly Abuse Prevention

The Long-Term Care Insurance Act requires the implementation of programs that protect elderly rights, such as those that prevent elderly abuse by local care/support providers and also stipulates service providers' obligation to respect the personality of service recipients.

The Act on the Prevention of Elder Abuse defines elder abuse separately: "abuse by caregivers" and "abuse by staff members of long-term care facilities." When you find elder abuse, please call/consult your municipality.

9. Examination Request

If you are dissatisfied with your certification for long-term care/support need or long-term care insurance premiums decided by the municipality, or you cannot accept such a decision after consulting the municipality, you can request the Long-Term Care Insurance Committee to examine it for seeking cancellation.

The Committee will review and judge whether the decision has been made correctly on the basis of the act or ordinance.

Such a request should be made within three months from the day following the date when you received the decision.

10. Use of Long-term Care Insurance Services by Persons with Disabilities

In principle, persons aged 65 or over, and those aged 40 to less than 65 who are subscribers of the medical insurance, including persons with disabilities who have been using services under the measures for persons with disabilities, are covered by the long-term care insurance system.

So, if persons with disabilities aged 65 or over and those aged 40 to less than 65 with any specified disease end up in a state requiring long-term care/support, and are certified for long-term care/support need, they can receive services from the long-term care insurance benefits and other programs.

If the services provided under the long-term care insurance cannot sufficiently support the independent living of persons with disabilities due to its services and function, services under the Act on Comprehensive Support for Persons with Disabilities and various other services can be included in their care plans, etc.

For more details, please consult with care managers and/or municipalities, or your Local Comprehensive Support Center.

Also, a new system was established in 2018, under which the copayment for long-term care insurance premiums is reimbursed from the high-cost welfare service allowance for those who meet certain conditions, such as municipal tax-exempt households or recipients of the public assistance aid.

For details, please ask your municipality.

11. Other Elderly Welfare Services
